

Getting your fix at Pizza Hut

It must be stressed here though that these dresses are one of a kind as they are especially tailored for RJ boutique.

The designer as well as a co-owner of the boutique Datin Rahmahjan Khan says she designs all the dresses herself and get her seamstress to sew them for her.

She says she also has a team who helps her with the bead-work.

Besides the dresses she also offers other items such as scarves.

"We will be offering a line of bags and shoes too, soon but for the moment we are concentrating on promoting our own brand of clothes. Our strong point is that you will not see a dress that look exactly like yours on the street," she says.

She also shares that she accept orders from her costumers. They can choose to bring their own materials or acquire one from her, she says.

"We invite our costumers to walk into our boutique. We are open from 10.30am to 9pm," she says.

The boutique will be launched officially soon. During that event, 24 pairs of dresses will be displayed by models.

"The dresses will also be on sale," she says.

So if you are interested to own a Malaysian creation, you should walk into RJ Boutique, at 1Borneo and get Rahmahjan's creation today.

with prawns, squids, caper-encines from the famous Rivera.

Meanwhile, the Arabia Rice is an exotic blend from the Middle East, which contains chicken, spices, capsicum, tomatoes, raisins and onions.

A Cuban concoction of 7-up Revive and mint syrups make up the Havana Mint which complement the 'Flavours of the World' menu.

So if you are around a Pizza Hut restaurant, step in for these new innovations. The promotion ends on Dec 15.
