

Mosaic hosts whisky appreciation dinner

A group of thirty whisky aficionados recently gathered at Mosaic of Hyatt Regency Kinabalu to gain a better understanding of single malt Scotch whisky. A whisky expert was invited to the event by liquor supplier Kwong Hin to give a presentation on single malt whisky. Colin Chia, who is the regional brand ambassador for reserve brands and classic malts for Diageo, Singapore, highlighted two of Scotland's classic malt whiskies, the regions where they are made, and the people and distilleries that make them.

Under the spotlight at Mosaic's single malt Scotch whisky appreciation dinner were Talisker 10 years old as well as The Singleton 12 years old and 18 years old. Chia glided through the intimate setting of Mosaic helping invited guests discover the flavours of single malt whisky as they enjoyed the foods prepared by the outlet's team of chefs.

Service began with an eclectic selection of tasty morsels and a cheese platter paired with a glass of 12-year-old Singleton Scotch whisky, followed by the 18-year-old vintage, paired with perfectly roasted Wagyu beef sprinkled with fresh rosemary, charcoal roast duck and smoked salmon along with fluffy mashed potatoes and an assortment of roast vegetables. Tasting closed with the beautifully light 10-year-old Talisker.

Chia told enthusiasts that just like wine, whisky can be collected as an investment, particularly limited editions and other rare and extraordinary examples. All in all, the evening was both educational and the appreciation was pleasurable. Hyatt Regency Kinabalu in partnership with its suppliers regularly organises events such as wine appreciation dinners, bringing in experts in their fields to present the best product the hotel has to offer to its valued guests.
