WHERE TO STAY

Kunak

Kunak is a town located in Tawau Division, east coast of Sabah. It was formerly a sub-district administered by Lahad Datu District Office. However it was declared a full district in 1981.

Kunak's population are mainly Bajau and Bugis. There are also many Chinese, although they are a minority. They usually run shops and are landowners who cultivate oil palms. Besides government schools, Chinese Primary and Secondary Schools are also found there. There is also a Cocos Community there. There are also some Kadazandusuns there but there are too little of them to make their presence felt.

About five kilometres from town a jetty is situated in an area called Pengkalan Kunak. A government hospital is located in the town area. Kunak is linked to Tawau and Semporna by a good road.

Kunak is well known for its cheap vegetables. In fact those who come from this area or have worked in Kunak will always comment that vegetables elsewhere are exorbitant.
