Hyatt's offerings

Diners who love shellfish will be able to sample this offering at Hyatt Kinabalu Regency Hotel's Chinese Restaurant until the end of May. They can expect a shellfish feast with over 11 dishes featuring a variety of tasty molluscs such as bai-top shell, tun shell, scallops, green mussels, oysters and clam prepared in an array of cooking styles and sauces, available for lunch and dinner.

The Chinese Restaurant prides itself as a fully restaurant. The wide selection of specialty dishes on the a la carte menu, innovative dim sums, Saturday night steamboat and monthly food promotions attract business lunch meetings, family gatherings and celebrations alike.

So if you are at the vicinity at the moment, drop by the restaurant and sample their shellfish offerings.

Meanwhile, the hotel will be offering an experience to wine and dine like a Mughal Emperor, to patrons on May 18.

An exotic menu has been designed to feature five courses of ancient Awadhi recipes from the 18th century, presented by celebrated master chefs Mohammed Ashfaque Qureshi and Mohammed Irfan Qureshi, the direct descendents of a lineage of chefs to the Mughal Emperors of India.

Throughout the evening, diners will get to sample the elaborate skills applied to the Qureshi brother's Heritage cuisine, complimented by a selection of international fine wines meticulously paired by David Hong, a renowned sommelier with 35 years of experience in the wine industry who has been especially flown in for the event.

The Royal Indian Wine Dinner starts at 7pm at The Kimanis Ballroom, providing a unique opportunity for diners to entertain clients or to surprise a loved one.

So if you want to do something special for someone that day, grab this opportunity and step into Hyatt for the occasion.
