Peter Sprenger, the resort's General Manager, says, "It was a genuine pleasure for us to be able to help this lovely couple and their families celebrate such an important occasion in their lives."

"The resort will continue to play host to couples who choose this beautiful part of the world. We are hosting two more weddings this week. I believe that Sabah has great potential as a wedding and honeymoon destination given its stunning beaches, world-class hotels and easy air access from Asia's major cities. We will certainly continue to pursue initiatives to tap into this market and hope to see the state benefit mutually from its huge tourism prospective," he added.

Meanwhile, Nexus Resort Karambunai's senior management recently paid courtesy calls to Datuk Iliyas Ibrahim, Mayor of Kota Kinabalu City and Encik Iskandar Mirza Mohd Yusoff, State Director of Tourism Malaysia Sabah, in an effort to enhance cordial relations and explore opportunities of working together for the mutual benefit of both parties.

Sprenger and Director of Sales and Marketing Brendan Wong spent an hour at each office speaking on various topics which traversed social, tourism and economic issues on the local, national and international fronts.

"We believe in pooling our resources and working well with the local authorities as well as tourism bodies in bringing tourists into the state as this move benefits both parties and creates a win-win scenario for all those involved," he said.
