

Jing Wan Restaurant – Canton Delights

Tucked in a little corner of the yellow Block D of the Bundusan Commercial Centre is a little gem called Jing Wan Restaurant. This restaurant has been in operation for about a year now, and features delectable Canton cuisine, all prepared by a chef from Canton. Jing Wan's highlights are dim sum and steamboat, but serve other main dishes, like chicken rice and 'kon lau' noodles as well. You can enjoy Jing Wan's steamboat in a half-and-half vessel with 2 different boiling broths of your choice. Here they have a choice of 8 broths – size chuan, tofu with century egg, plain, rice porridge, herbal, salted vegetable, chicken and the super spicy tom yam soup. The list that they hand you offers a good variety of ingredients for you to choose from, including very thinly sliced imported beef and lamb for quick cooking. If you want to have some ostrich meat in your steamboat, they've got that too! Some unique steamboat ingredients are included in their list, like the 'siew lung pao' which is chiefly a stuffed Chinese bun; except when you take a bite into the bun, a surprising, but delicious shot of chicken soup fills your mouth! Jing

Wan prides itself on the home-made noodles it serves, and rightfully so. If you can't get your children to enjoy vegetables, they come in sheep's clothing here – Jing Wan makes and serves tasty spinach and carrot noodles they won't resist. If you're on a food hunt for good braised leg of pork, definitely put Jing Wan on your list. The tenderest meat served on a platter falls of the bone only just as you touch it with your knife. Other specialties that will please you are their scrumptious dim sum, lotus leaf rice and spinach seafood soup. Try them once and you'll be planning your next dinner here. If you want to be impressed by their gorgeous roasted suckling pig you'll want to order it at least a day in advance.

Jing Wan Restaurant is located in Block D of the Bundusan Commercial Centre, at Lots 45 and 46, Jalan Bundusan, Penampang. Opening hours are 6.30 am to 3 pm and 6.30 pm to 10pm, Monday to Sunday. Jing Wan caters for private functions and weddings. For more information please contact the restaurant at 088 710 763.
